

STRONG WOMEN STRONG WORLD FUND

Empowering women and girls

Ending extreme poverty is possible, but not while half the population is held back. Women and girls in poverty face unique obstacles from the day they are born. This often stops them from living healthy, safe and productive lives.

- Pregnancy and childbirth complications are among the leading causes of death for teenage girls.
- Women and girls spend 200 million hours hauling water every day.
- Every minute 22 girls under the age of 18 are married.
- In developing economies, only 68 percent of women have access to financial services.

EXTREME POVERTY ENDS WITH HER

World Vision knows that when we intentionally support women and girls to gain equal access and opportunity:

- women give birth to, and raise, healthier children
- girls stay in school for longer and marry later
- household incomes grow and communities become more prosperous

Through the Strong Women Strong World Fund, you can invest in World Vision programs that help remove barriers and open doors so women and girls can shine.

WHY WORLD VISION?

Women and girls are at the centre of all our programs. We design activities to nurture women's confidence and skills and address barriers to their participation and agency.

We work with women, girls, men and boys to transform discriminatory practices together. We collaborate with governments and mobilise local faith leaders to act on gender injustices. This approach helps to shift mindsets, traditions and cultural norms that have held women and girls back for generations.

As a key partner in this work, you'll receive six-monthly project updates. You can attend exclusive events with like-minded women and explore the issues and solutions in depth. And you'll have opportunities to visit our projects overseas to see your impact.

OVERCOMING BARRIERS AT EVERY LIFE STAGE

Your donation to the Strong Women Strong World Fund will help equip women and girls with the skills and resources to thrive.

HEALTH AND NUTRITION

She can be born safely and grow well when her mother is equipped to care for her. Through our mother and child health programs, community health workers provide mothers with vital information and support during pregnancy and children's early years.

WATER AND SANITATION

She can stay strong and healthy and go to school when there's access to clean water near her home. This means she doesn't waste hours every day collecting water and get sick from drinking it.

EDUCATION

She can remain in class during her period when she has appropriate sanitation facilities for menstrual hygiene. Through our water, sanitation and hygiene programs, girls get access to school toilets and private sanitary rooms.

CHILD PROTECTION

She can be protected from violence when her community begins to turn away from harmful practices like teenage sexual exploitation and child marriage. Our child protection programs engage the community to tackle the root causes of injustice for girls.

ECONOMIC EMPOWERMENT

She can thrive when she has access to vocational training, savings groups, credit and financial services. Our economic empowerment programs equip women with the tools they need to earn income for themselves and their families.
